2N is participating in the international exhibition in Barcelona!

As in previous years, 2N will be offering its operator solutions in Barcelona at this year's World Mobile Congress 2012. Once again we want to show operators and their distributors how 2N solutions can improve their key indicators. The MWC is a momentous and important event for 2N. We attend the exhibition with the aim of not only making contacts, but also monitoring and reacting to global trends and the current needs of our partners.
