

Luxury residential complex with products from 2N

Mission

Porto Montenegro, a top luxury residential complex with marina, opened in 2009 in Montenegro, seeking a suitable solution for security and communication on the premises. Adriatic Marinas D.O.O., the company operating the complex in Tivat, turned to the local integrator Telemont d.o.o. with their request for a solution that would satisfy the requirements of the affluent clientele of the complex and could be easily implemented within the existing IP infrastructure of the buildings and apartments.

“Design, functionality and product support convinced us that we made a right choice with 2N IP intercoms and answering indoor units for our client’s luxury residential complex.”

Dragan Grubor, CCO, Telemont d.o.o.

Benefits

- Luxury design matching the attractive appearance of the residence
- Intuitive control with additional functions - an image saved for each missed call and a do not disturb mode
- Enhanced security within the complex - video monitoring of entrances, remote opening of doors
- Simple plug and play installation owing to a full IP solution

Solution

The complex comprises several residential buildings, hotels, shops, restaurants, and a marina. The requirement was to equip the residential sections with a video intercom system for 18 entrances and 111 apartments in total. The client emphasized the need to use luxury design in order to match the exclusive character of the interior. In addition, the system had to be connected directly in the existing IP infrastructure without the need for any additional cabling or investment. Including an option for remote system administration was also an important requirement.

2N® Helios IP Vario

Result

The complex operator was deciding between either conventional IP telephones with a color display, or the 2N® Indoor Touch units. They were also seeking a comprehensive solution that included door intercoms from the same brand/manufacturer.

The local partner Telemont d.o.o. used 2N products to offer a comprehensive solution meeting the customer's requirements, installed and configured the system as a whole, and trained the customer's personnel.
